

GRANT WRITING SERVICES

Solution Summary

Grant writing isn't a venture that you have to go at alone. Working with US Federal Contractor Registration's (USFCR) Grant Writing Team, your organization can gain expert insight into selecting, and applying for the perfect grant for your initiative. Our grant consultants will tailor the service to your specific needs. We offer full grant consulting, grant writing, review & submit, and grant sourcing.

GRANT WRITING CHALLENGES

Funding Opportunity Announcements

Grant Funding Opportunity Announcements can be difficult to interpret, and errors in an application can easily disqualify an entity from the opportunity.

Creating a Budget for Project

The budget is one of the most tedious parts of the grant submission. Without a seasoned financial advisor, writing a budget can be stressful.

Time Management

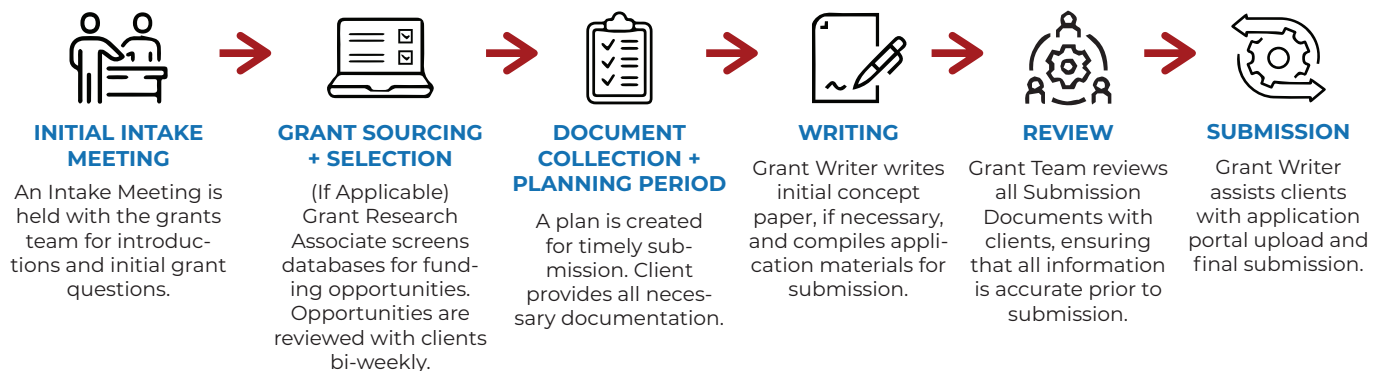

The learning curve on applications can slow an inexperienced applicant down from meeting important grant deadlines.

Finding Funding Opportunities

Searching for funding opportunities is one of the most important grant processes. If not executed right, an organization can miss deadlines for grants.

INSIDE USFCR'S SOLUTION

By hiring USFCR's Grant Team, you will receive one-on-one consultation from a team of experienced Grant Writers, Researchers and Editors.

BENEFITS

Grant Review

Your grant writer will walk you through relevant funding opportunity notices to see if it's a suitable fit for your organization.

Research and Guidance

The consultant will help you write an effective narrative based on extensive research. The consultant will also identify similar grants funded in the past to offer comparisons of funding.

Budget Spending Review

With USFCR's Grant Writing Service, you will get a thorough review of your budgetary piece to ensure that the numbers add up with the grant spending guidelines.

Template Creation

Your consultant will create and give you access to custom templates that can be used for current and future grants.
